New ConTex-Commentary - issued:	06.05.21
The Container Market has continued its relentless pursuit of ever higher levels with no sign of a pause yet. Indeed the only factor preventing fixtures is the shortage of candidates; the demand for tonnage continues unabated. Not only are Owners invariably achieving rates higher than last-done, they are also achieving longer periods. Generally the larger the ship the greater the likelihood of longer periods. For the largest sizes available to the market, four and five year terms are making regular appearances again. The New ConTex Index has gained a further 34 points this week and now stands at 1320. The largest gains recorded have been the smaller feeder sizes which have benefitted from the lack of larger tonnage. This week the 1700 TEU sector has been marked-up 4.5% and 3.9% basis 6 months/12 months respectively. The 1100 TEU sector has not been far behind with 3.3% and 3.2% respectively. Most of the other sizes were marked-up in the 1.8-2.2% range - still robust - but it is simply the lack of fixtures being reported that prevents any more spectacular increases here.
