New ConTex-Commentary - issued:		14.11.19
The level of activity has recovered and trading has been quite brisk after recent public holidays around the Globe. The New ConTex Index has managed to turn around its fortunes again and the Index is back up to 440 points, recovering the two points lost last week. With the exception of the 12 months rate for 3500 TEUs, all the component rates were marked higher with the largest gain being for the 2500 TEUs basis 12 months which saw an improvement of 1.5% on last week. Otherwise the gains were in the band of 0.2% o 0.8% on last week. The market could be expected to start showing the first signs of uncertainty that tend to appear at this time of year as enquiry begins to lessen. However, as the supply of tonnage is not so high, the next few weeks could see rates go either way as the market is quite well balanced at the moment.
