New ConTex-Commentary - issued: 04.06.20

The New ConTex value continues its downward trend and is now exceeding 20% of its year-on-year value ending at 317 and accelerating towards the numbers experienced during 3/4th quarter of the 2016 crisis period.

All segments indicate a falling trend and most significant for tonnage of 3500 TEU and above who suffer from lines having own capacity to be utilised and considering the structure of the idle fleet it is likely to take some time before improvements can be expected. The downward trend for 2500 and 1700 TEU tonnage is less significant but in some sectors the supply and demand scenario appear more balanced.

This being said activity has been improving during May and continuing this week with the amount of transactions growing which could indicate a potential stabilised period for feeder tonnage.
