New ConTex-Commentary - issued:		08.04.21
The market is still overheating : with a continued rise in charter rates supported by a string demand and a very limited number of vessels available on a prompt basis. We are now reaching the 200 pct increase on year on year basis and every New ConTex is setting new record valuations . Charterers have not other choice but to look at forward positions to cover their requirements, also in the smaller sizes, in order to widen their fixing options. However Owners ultimately decide if they are to commit their tonnage in advance or let it run into promptish position, in order to fully benefit from the continuously rising charter rates. Further rates increases are expected in the next few weeks as the supply of prompt tonnage remains extremely tight across most size segments.
