New ConTex-Commentary - issued:	07.04.22
We have seen another week with only slow chartering activities all over the places and in all sizes. However the Owners were able to fix healthy rates while it has been noted that the Charterers are not willing to accept the longterm periods anymore, but try to shorten same accordingly. Especially the smaller segments were affected by this tendencies. Consequently the New ConTex for the feeder segment has lost its' momentum as it can be seen in the downward changes. Due to fact that hardly any larger vessels are available for charter at the moment, this segment is not effected from this tendency as hard as the feeder segment is. It has to be seen how the market will develop over the next weeks, as we see especially in the feeder sizes many vessels due for extension.
