New ConTex-Commentary - issued:	01.06.23
The New ConTex continued to teeter on the edge with an overall basically unchanged score. The different size segments however showed diverging results. Demand for the largest vessels was still pretty good and prompt availability remains low, which in turn forces charterers to act upon forward positions. In the midsize range the 3500 and 4250 TEU ships are also faring relatively better than the 2500 and 2700 TEU vessels as the rate per TEU@14t is very close to, or even higher. This goes against the general trend of decreasing slot costs with increasing vessel size and illustrates the higher relative scarcity. After last week the 2500/2700 TEU ships lost the most ground, this week the smaller ships of 1100 TEU lost close to 1% and some 1700 TEU are also indicating rates below last done.
